Four Pretty Candidates In VHS "Snow Queen" Contest

On Thursday, Dec. 21, one of these four Vulcan High School girls will be crowned Snow Queen, at the annual school Christmas dance. Each of the candidates has a promotion committee pushing ticket sales, one of the points on which the contest is based. Personality, Deportment, Academic standing, and general attitude with regard to home, school and church life are other factors to be assessed by a panel of judges. It is hoped to have judges from Brant, Arrowwood, Mossleigh, Champion, Carmangay and Vulcan.

Lucy Sherstabetoff, a grade 12 student and queen contestant is pictured above. The fourth young queen hopeful is Patricia Uily, 15 years of age in grade 10.

Dec. 10 Official Date For Town Xmas Decorations

The excitement of Christmas morning is a scant three weeks away for Vulcan and district youngsters but an earlier deadline faces merchants and businessmen. Dec. 10 is the date set for the ushering in of the Christmas season and first steps in transforming Vulcan's business streets to a Yuletide setting will be the erection of the new familiar downtown Christmas tree at the main intersection.

This and other features were planned at a meeting, Nov. 28, of the Vulcan District Board of Trade. Once again the local Lions Club, Elks Lodge and Vulcan Legion are uniting with the Board to prepare the scene which will greet the arrival of Santa on Saturday, Dec. 16.

Howie Marshman, John Andrews and Merle Smith are the committee in charge of the Christmas tree while tree and street lighting arrangements were turned over to Donald and David Mitchell, Swede Robertson, Howie Klippert and Don Larkins.

Nativity Play To Be Presented By Drama Group

The first public appearance of the Drama Group of the Vulcan County Arts Council will be Monday, Dec. 18, when a cast of seven appears in the play, "A Child Is Born," to be staged at the Vulcan High School Auditorium.

"A Child Is Born" is a modern drama of the Nativity and was written by Stephen Vincent Benet in 1941, originally for radio production. It proved so popular that it was repeated the following year and has since been adapted for stage.

Directing the play is Miss Esther Nelson, Assistant Professor of Drama, Department of Extension at the University of Alberta. Miss Nelson directed a drama workshop in Vulcan at the time the group was formed and since Nov. 3, of this year has been making regular trips to rehearse the local cast of seven in the Christmas play.

The script is in modern language rather than Biblical and centres around the inn at Bethlehem and the inn-keeper and his wife, rather than the manger scene. The story of the birth of Christ is revealed in the text of the script as the play unfolds.

Mrs. Jessie Sharpe is assistant director and other members of the drama group are in charge of stage work, lighting, costumes, etc. Marjorie Weber and Shirley Franks are on the Drama Group executive.

The three lead roles are taken by Margaret and Louis Shaw and Donald Truss of Brant.

Flying Farmers Attend Annual 'Spiel At Calgary

The Alberta Flying Farmers swapped radio beams for curling brooms for two days recently and gathered in Calgary at the Big Four Building for their third annual curling bonspiel.

Ten local Flying Farmers took in the event Nov. 27 and 28, and the rink of Lawrence Mensinger, Lionel Lucas, Irving Brown and Cora Mensinger came within a whisker of taking first prize trophy with 93 points, one short of the winner, Stan Bradford of Lanes, Sask. Consolation prize went to Ken Bjornsen of Champion. Others from Vulcan in attendance

Good Response For 2nd Survival Training Course

Recruiting for the second National Survival Training course at Vulcan is proceeding at a good pace, with 35 applications already received at the Vulcan Armouries. This second six-week course will start on Jan. 8.

Trainees from 18 to 50 years of age can be accepted, which means that father and son combinations are not too unusual. However, three from one family, on the same course, is unusual and the second course has applications from two such groups. The Browns of Carmangay, father and two sons, have applied and three of the Williams brothers of Arrowwood are looking forward to taking the second course.

The first course of 30 men are now in their fifth week of training and are now learning the proper methods of extricating injured persons from wrecked buildings, having just completed the first aid training, in which the majority attained excellent marks.

A social evening for members of the course and their ladies is being held in the Armouries this Friday evening and a formal inspection and march-past will be held next week at the conclusion of the course.

Mrs. Mary Soder Laid To Rest

A well known resident of Vulcan, Mrs. Mary Bernine Soder, beloved wife of Frank Soder, died on Nov. 28, 1961, following a brief illness. She was 75 years of age.

Born at Bergen, Norway, Mrs. Soder came to Canada in 1910 and lived at Minota and Elkhorn, Man., before moving to Vulcan in 1944. She was a member of the Vulcan United Church.

Besides her husband she is survived by four daughters, Mrs. John (Margaret) Anderson, Winnipeg, Mrs. Norman (Fern) Scotney, Vulcan, Mrs. Wilfred (Gladys) Bittorf, Milo and Miss Ida Soder, Portage la Prairie, Man.; two sons, Ronald of Selkirk, Man., and Norman of Vulcan; 15 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and four sisters.

Services were conducted by the Rev. D. A. Sharpe at the Vulcan United Church on Saturday, Dec. 2. The Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Pall-bearers were Reginald Scotney, William Anderson, Martin Soder, Douglas Scotney, Brian Bittorf, Renforth Scotney and William Soder. Interment was in the Vulcan cemetery.

were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lucas, Keith and Margaret Fisher, Jackie Lucas and Mrs. Irving Brown.

There were 88 curlers on the ice for four games and 118 members and guests sat down to supper and general meeting on Monday night. Curlers came from many points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, some by plane and others by car.

This was the second bonspiel attended by Vulcan flying farmers. Entertainment was predominant for the two-day session with Fort Calgary house as headquarters for supper and dancing after 5:00 p.m., on the first evening of the bonspiel.

Berrywater 4-H Beef Club Meets

The regular meeting of the Berrywater 4-H Beef Club was held Friday night, Dec. 1, at the Berrywater Community Center. Fifteen members answered the roll call with the weight and name of their calves.

Orlo Doane reported the results of a recent meeting of the advisory committee. Peter Silbernagel was once again elected club leader while Kenny Booth was named junior club leader. Peter Silbernagel then read out the list of 4-H Rules and Regulations for the benefit of the new members and to refresh the memories of the other members.

Following this, David Salken gave a report on his efficiency trip to the Olds School of Agriculture. Immediately after adjournment of the meeting, membership cards and programs for the 1961-62 term were issued to the members.

Lunch was then served.

Stores Open Next Two Mondays

In order that shoppers may take full advantage of week days from now until Christmas the Board of Trade, as a result of contact with the merchants, has announced stores will be open on Mondays. This will include Monday, Dec. 10 and 17 only. Other than this change of schedule, Christmas store hours will not be changed from the usual pattern. With Christmas falling on a Monday, stores will remain open regular hours through the previous weeks and until 9:00 p.m. Saturday nights.

Vulcan Theatre will be showing two afternoon features in conjunction with kiddies day in town with the first show at 1:00 p.m. and the second going in at 3:00 p.m. The program is geared for the children with the main feature being "Snow Fire" followed by three cartoons.

Self-starting School Bus At Lomond

A freak accident occurred early Wednesday morning when the school bus operated by Glen Root, crashed through the north wall of Joe's Cafe at Lomond.

The school bus was parked on the hill on the north side of the cafe and evidently the ignition

Lions Turkey Shoot Held

Waiting for the "bird" are two trap shooting marksmen, Ivan Haga and Howard Spaeth at the annual Lions Club Turkey Shoot held last Saturday. This outdoor event was one of several ways the public had of caging their Christmas turkey. Inside the Armouries the perennial bingo games went on, the wheels turned, pitch was played and downstairs more sharpshooters took in the rifle competitions for turkeys. No matter which method was attempted in most cases the turkeys, hams or chocolates, when and if they were won, averaged around two dollars a pound. However with the worthy cause behind it all the Turkey Shoot provided an avenue of excitement along with the donations.

Nels Running Dies At Champion

Services were conducted at the Champion United Church on Thursday, Nov. 30, by Rev. William Morrison for Nels Running, a resident of Champion for the past 34 years, who died at Vulcan on Nov. 25, 1961. He was 78 years of age.

Born in Norway, Mr. Running shorted with the bus starting by itself and rolled across the sidewalk and into the wall of the building. Luckily no one was injured.

came to the Alderston district in 1910 and to Champion in 1927.

Surviving are two brothers, Paul in Montana and Sigurd of South Dakota. He was predeceased by one brother, Ole, in 1958.

Honorary pall-bearers were A. Baker, G. Gunderson, O. Hagg, F. Bouzyan, A. Rinaldi, E. Marshman and E. Ellison. Active pall-bearers were Herb Gyorffy, A. L. Siler, C. L. Sletto, Gordon Davey, E. B. Granlin and T. B. Holm.

Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Automobiles were offered to consumers "complete equipped" for the first time in 1910.

Taken from the office window of the new John Wolfe Hardware on the opening weekend, John and

the painting for the store. In the background, Ray Wellman is seen at the counter handling a purchase by Gordon Prusky.

Wolfe Hardware Re-opens In New Premises

The new John Wolfe Hardware opened for business last Friday, three and one-half months after its doors had been closed by a disastrous fire which razed two adjoining buildings and burned out all but the main display floor of the hardware itself.

And so it's business as usual once again at the same old stand but in new, beautiful surroundings for the staff of John Wolfe, Ray Wellman, Bill Salvage and Mrs. Doreen Gustuin.

The business was out-of-operation for a month following the fire and resumed in temporary quarters at the old Red & White Store during the period of rebuilding.

Although the store front, office and back area of the hardware is not yet completed, the main display floor is set up with new wall shelving and new display counters and fixtures are all laden with toys and gifts to meet the Christmas season at hand.

The windowed front of the store, which suffered only light damage from the fire, is essentially the same and will be finished with ceramic tile on the exterior when weather permits its application.

The old upstairs store room is gone, being replaced by a greater store area which is now 4,250 square feet, and a full cement basement.

Soft brown linoleum floor covering, bright contrasting fixtures and display counters and light coffee colored walls with lighting from six full length rows of two-unit fluorescent light under a white ceiling, give a clean, bright fully modern finish to the interior. Added illumination comes from full-length canopy lights along each wall which reflect the bright colors of goods on the display. These lights are timed to turn off during the evening hours.

The store is divided into roughly two sections, the front display area and the back portion which will be given over to the heavy hardware on one side with complete shelving along the walls, while the other side is a receiving area for stock being shipped in. An elevated office separates the two parts of the store.

While general hardware items are stocked at present, emphasis is on gifts and Christmas toy merchandise. Complete hardware lines will be stocked in after Christmas.

The store aisles and displays are laid out to give complete ease of viewing and selecting items by the customer and brings hardware merchandising as close to self service as it can be.

The two opening days drew large crowds to the store and the decision to open at this time gives Christmas shoppers added selection here in town.

Russ Kitchen of the Glidden Paint Company gave demonstrations of this new paint line now handled by Wolfe's. Another business visitor was Bob Tovy of the Canadian Retail Hardware Association. The store now handles wallpaper as a new line and on one wall is an effective mural design, a sample of a new trend in interior decorating.

Over 160 Present

District Governor At Champion Charter Night

The Champion Lions Club celebrated its 16th Annual Charter Night on Monday, Nov. 27, in the Community Hall.

More than 160 Lions and their guests enjoyed a delicious banquet which was prepared and served by the Champion CWL.

Lion President Earl Heglund welcomed the guests and then turned the program over to toastmaster Ed Lundberg. The assembly under the direction of the song leader, Jack McIntyre and pianist, Anne Siler, enjoyed singing following the supper. Mayor Walt Harris brought greeting from the Village Council, pointing out the good work that the Lions are doing in the community.

A toast to the ladies was very capably proposed by Lion Bob Burton and fittingly responded to by Racile Ellis. Old Monarch chevrons were presented to Lions Clayton Sletto, Ted Holm, Bud Siler, Jack McIntyre, Joe Keenan and Harvey Jopling, who are charter members of the club.

Guest speaker of the evening, Don Wilcox, District Governor of 37C from Shelby, Mont., was introduced by Zone Chairman Wilbur Matlock. In his address to the assembly Lion Don pointed out the tremendous job which the Lions Clubs throughout the world have to do. At the conclusion of his speech which was very much enjoyed by all present, Lion Phil Fath on behalf of the Champion Club, made a presentation of a silver dish to Mrs. Wilcox.

Entertainment continued in the main hall with a fashion show presented by a number of Lions from the Champion Club. This proved to be very entertaining and created a gay atmosphere which continued throughout the remainder of the evening of dancing.

Near the end of the evening a delicious snack table was brought out which had been prepared earlier by a number of the Lions wives and was very much enjoyed by all.

Out-of-town guests were present from Vulcan, Carmangay, Mossleigh, Arrowwood, Milo, Lomond, Lethbridge, Shelby and Warner.

The hazards of carrying out improper repairs of neglecting the maintenance of low and high pressure boilers is evidence by the recent explosion of a giant low pressure vessel in an Alberta town. Boiler Branch inspectors of the Alberta Department of Labour warn operators of pressure boilers to ensure the vessel is properly operated within the provisions of the Boilers and Pressure Vessels Act.

The recent near-disastrous incident involving a pressure vessel occurred when stay bolts securing a steel wrapper around a heating plant unit failed as the result of repairs undertaken by an unqualified welder. The pressure, estimated at five lbs. per square inch, burst the retaining bolts hurling the 2200 pound steel wrapper 1 1/2 blocks from the site where it fortunately landed on an open street. The building which housed the unit was completely demolished as was an adjoining garage. The operator was subsequently convicted for offences under the Act. The 28 inspectors of the Boilers Branch who administer the Boilers and Pressure Vessels Act regularly inspect the 1,599 high pressure and 5,806 low pressure boilers registered by statute throughout the province. All installations are examined approximately every two years. Included in the legislation are regulations governing the design, fabrication and installation of vessels and the technical training required to carry out welding repairs to a boiler. A certificate issued by the Branch is required if the installation is to be operated.

WILL DEBBIE SELMES' PRAYERS BE ANSWERED?

The wheel chair at the end of her bed is the clue to what this little girl is praying for. She's praying for a miracle — a cure for muscular dystrophy within her lifetime. Debbie Selmes' prayers may be answered if science is able to find the cure within this decade. The Muscular Dystrophy Association's fund raising drive for research is now in progress.

Bruce Roe, who has contributed several photos in past months, of Vulcan and district in its infancy, has gone farther afield with the above picture which is of the oil field area at Turner Valley. Inscribed on the back of the picture are the words, "on the property of the Dingman Oil Well in Turner Valley, 1913." Although none of the men gathered in front of the equipment and cars is identified, it is possible some of today's millionaires are in the crowd.

District News

LOMOND

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hart and family at the news of the death of Mrs. Hart's sister, Mrs. M. Arnold of Hanna in Calgary on Friday of last week. Mrs. Arnold passed away in a Calgary hospital after undergoing surgery. Funeral services were held in Calgary on Monday. She was 73 years of age.

Eight young people were confirmed at the St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday morning, Nov. 26. Services were conducted by Bishop George Calvert of Calgary, assisted by Rev. J. D. McClintock. The candidates were Miss Marilyn Frost, Miss Margaret Ruppert, Miss Nancy Lomas, David Sande, Keith Goldthorpe, Gordon Fraser, Percy Palmer and Lloyd Palmer. Following the church service, a reception was held in the Lomond Community Hall for the bishop, candidates and the congregation where a lovely dinner was served by the ladies of the guild.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Stumpf and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Goldthorpe and Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Goldthorpe and family, all of Milo, attended confirmation services at St. John's Anglican Church in Lomond on Sunday, Nov. 26. They spent the remainder of the day visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hirst Goldthorpe and son Keith.

Those from Lomond attending the Champion Lions Charter Night on Monday, Nov. 27, were the following: Lion President Doug Walker and wife Pauline, Lion Fred Walker and wife Helen, Lion Reg. Frost and wife Mary, Lion Walter Mix and wife Jean, Lion Cliff Schlaht and wife Laverne, Lion Smokey Jones and wife Leona, Lion Floyd Howg and wife Rose and Lion Len Chase and wife Jean.

The general feeling around town seems to be that Lomond needs a restaurant very badly where busy housewives could have a chance to enjoy someone else's cooking and where a cup of coffee could be enjoyed after a night out.

Mrs. Oliver Hart entertained a number of ladies at a canasta party at her home on Thursday evening of last week. Winning the prize for high score for the evening was Mrs. Arlene Tolley. Low went to Mrs. Emma Root.

Among those attending the Truck Drivers Convention in Calgary last week were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Root and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tolley.

Congratulations are extended to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Maronda. Mrs. Maronda was the former Miss Marjorie Stannard, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stannard.

LIONS CLUB LADIES NIGHT

The Lomond Lions Club held their Annual Ladies Night on Tuesday evening, Nov. 21, at the Lomond Community Hall. There were 134 in attendance, most of whom enjoyed the evening very much.

Lion President Doug Walker welcomed all who attended. Lion Len Chase gave the welcome to the ladies which was very ably replied to by Mrs. Mildred Honess.

The program consisted of a hill-billy mock wedding. After the program dancing was enjoyed until midnight when a lovely buffet luncheon was served by the Ladies of the St. John's Guild.

BIG PROJECT FOR LIONS

The Lomond Lions Club are undertaking a big project for the village, sort of a civic centre for everyone. Plans have been made to move the curling rink from its present location down to the skating rink. There it will be placed on a cement foundation and joined to the skating rink.

Forty feet of the south end of the skating rink will be divided into two dressing rooms, a powder room and a furnace room. There will also be a large dining room 40x60 feet, a kitchen and an entrance way. It will be built so that over these rooms there will be a

SHARON PHILLIPS SHOWER

The United Church basement was gaily decorated with miniature umbrellas, balloons and streamers on Nov. 25, in honor of Sharon Phillips.

The afternoon opened by a group of four ladies singing several songs. The head table was centered with a cake made, decorated and topped with a miniature umbrella and gifts by Mrs. Lucille Deitz. Seated at the head table to assist Sharon in opening her gifts which were pulled in, in a beautifully decorated wagon by Letty Lynn Stumpf and Gregory Deitz, were the bride's mother, Mrs. Gladys Phillips; mother of the groom, Mrs. Joe Thomson, Sr., and Helen Ausetad. Noreen Nelson was in charge of the gift book. On behalf of everyone present Mrs. Iona Umschied presented the many lovely and useful gifts to Sharon. After the gifts had been opened and passed around Sharon was then presented with another gift, which was a silver tea service set which was made from tin cans and painted silver. This masterpiece was made by Murray Phillips and Ian Thomson.

Blocking the upper end of Spray Canyon, the earth fill Canyon Dam diverted the flow of the Spray River from Banff. This diversion formed the 20-mile-long Spray Lake, the reservoir which feeds Three Sisters, Spray and Rundle Plants. After passing through these plants, the water returns to the Bow River near Canmore to be used by four other hydro plants down-stream.

Calgary Power Ltd. Has Fifty Year History of Power Development in Alta.

In capturing the energy of rushing mountain water from the Spray Lakes, and transforming it to push-button benefits for homes, farms, and factories hundreds of miles away, Calgary Power Ltd. found special reason for pride. The achievement of reversing the direction of a mountain water-course to generate 168,000 horse power is one to be recounted as the company celebrates its 50th Anniversary of power production in 1961.

The beginning was humble enough. Though the construction of the first dam at Horse Shoe Falls in 1911 did not escape the cynic's warnings of failure, the soundness of this decision was soon apparent, and the Kananaskis development followed. Then Ghost, Barrier, Three Sisters, Spray, Rundle, Bearsaw, Inter-lakes, Pocaterra; and finally the Wabamun thermal installation was built to meet the ever growing demands of the province.

Spray was unique in many ways. Didn't the utilization of those lakes more than 1200 feet above the Bow River establish a new highwater mark in Canadian hydro engineering?

Fifty years ago — the same year that Calgary Power Company Limited delivered the first power from the new Horse Shoe Dam — Dominion Government surveyors took note of the possibility of utilizing the Spray Lakes water for power generation. At that time, the project — even in its simplest form — was considered to be excessively big and difficult.

The surveyor's reports were filed, and nothing was done about them for many years. In 1922 a party of Company engineers — including G. A. Gaherty, who was destined to become President of Calgary Power Ltd. — set out from Banff with supplies to last the winter, and began detailed studies of the Spray Project.

These studies indicated that the immediately foreseeable demand for power at that time did not justify the heavy capital investment that would be required for this project. The Ghost plant — completed in 1929 — could, with Horse Shoe and Kananaskis handle the electrical demands of the province. Then came the "dirty 30's" and with the depression any thoughts of expansion faded. The second World War, and the discovery of oil in 1947 sparked a boom that mushroomed the province's economy and produced a demand for power that justified the company embarking on its most ambitious project — Spray.

In May 1949 work started. This was to be no simple hydro development, and called for dams that would reverse the flow of water and bring it plunging down through Whiteman's Pass to the Spray plant. Canyon dam alone called for over one million cubic feet of earth piled 193 feet high to plug the normal flow from the Spray lakes.

This water would pass through three hydro plants — Three Sisters, Spray and Rundle before joining the Bow at Canmore. In pursuing its new man-made course, through canals and tunnels the water would plunge 905 feet to the giant turbines at Spray — six times the height of Niagara Falls. The impounding and raising of the lake water — 210,000 acre feet of it — was in itself an immense undertaking, and the tunnel carved out of the rock and leading to the Spray turbines nestling in a man-made niche at the foot of the mountains was a noteworthy feat of engineering.

The Spray project was completed in 1951 in time to supply the expanding petroleum industry of Alberta and its greatly increased demand for power. In 1961, the 50th Anniversary year of the company, the capacity of the Spray-Rundle development was doubled. The story of Spray is one of which Albertans can be proud. The engineering problems were great, the capital expenditure enormous, but its contribution to the industrial potential of the province has proved its worth.

P.F.A.A. PAYMENTS OF $25,000,000 TO PRAIRIE FARMERS BY CHRISTMAS

REGINA.—Prairie Farm Assistance Act payments of $25,000,000 of an expected $60,000,000 to be paid during the current crop year, are to be in the hands of prairie farmers by Christmas. This was announced today by Mr. Alvin Hamilton, Minister of Agriculture, at the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union being held in Saskatoon. The Minister stated that he had been advised by H. S. Riddell, Director of P.F.A.A., that cheques would commence going in the mail on December 1. The work of processing the balance of the claims will be proceeded with as rapidly as possible so that the expected balance of $35,000,000 in payments will be completed by the end of January.

The Administration has been requested by municipal officials to make crop inspections covering some 5,900 townships in the three prairie provinces. This field work is now 95 per cent complete.

Mr. Hamilton stated he has no reason to believe that the estimate of sixty million dollars made by the Prime Minister in August would be changed. It is expected $8,000,000 of this figure will go to approximately 25,000 Manitoba farmers, $40,000,000 to some 82,000 Saskatchewan farmers and $12,000,000 to about 14,000 Alberta farmers.

This is the largest payment to be made in the 21 year history of the Act. Since the inception of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act in 1939 to the end of the 1960 crop year, $260,814,000 has been paid by way of 1,152,000 individual awards. Farmers have paid into the fund $127,253,000 by way of a 1% levy collected on grain delivered over the same period. It is expected that the contribution by the Canadian Government out of the consolidated revenue fund to pay the 1961 awards, will amount to approximately $53,000,000.

Under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act there are three categories of payment, based on whether the average yield of wheat in a township or block of sections is from zero to three bushels per acre; three to five bushels or five to eight bushels an acre in a crop failure year. If the average yield of wheat for the township or block of sections, excluding those sections having a yield of 12 or more bushels per acre, is three bushels or less per acre, the payment is $4 per acre on one-half of the total cultivated acreage of the farmer.

If the average yield is more than three and not more than five bushels an acre, the payment is $3 per acre on one-half of the total cultivated acreage of a farmer.

If the average yield is more than five and not more than eight bushels an acre, the payment is $2 per acre on one-half of the total cultivated acreage of a farmer.

In the zero to five bushel categories the minimum payment is $200. But to qualify for this minimum award, a farm must have at least 25 acres under cultivation or in the development stage other than land seeded to grass.

The maximum payment is $800 to farmers in the zero to three bushel category; $600 in the three to five bushel category and $400 to farmers in the five to eight bushel category. The maximum payment is reached when the cultivated acreage amounts to 400 acres.

Announcing THE INTRODUCTION IN ALBERTA OF DOW BREWERY (WESTERN) LIMITED AND Dow PRODUCTS

A great Canadian brewing company has now entered the Alberta Market, and will operate the plant of The Big Horn Brewing Company Limited which will henceforth be known as DOW BREWERY (WESTERN) LIMITED manufacturing DOW products for sale in Western Canada.

The longest-established brewery in Canada and one of the nation's largest, Dow has historic associations with the three great names in the Canadian brewing industry, having been founded by Thomas Dunn in 1790, partnered by William Dow in 1818, and amalgamated with the Dawes brewery in 1909.

The Dow Quebec City plant—though one of the most modern in Canada—is located on the site of Canada's first brewery built by the Intendant of New France, Jean Talon, in 1668. The vaults of the DOW plant at Quebec are the original storehouse used to stock the colonists' "biere" nearly 300 years ago.

Two of the outstanding football players in Canada—Bernie Faloney, right, and Tony Pajackowski—hold the coveted Canadian Schenley Trophy. Faloney, quarterback with Hamilton Tiger-Cats, won the award as the Most Outstanding Football Player. Pajackowski, defensive end from Calgary Stampeders, is the first lineman to win the Canadian Player of the Year Award.

Radke - Auld Wedding First In New Calgary Church

The St. Andrew's United Church of Calgary was the scene of a recent wedding conducted by Rev. Hartwell B. Ilsey, when Ann Sharon Auld was united in marriage to Richard Wilber Radke, son of Mrs. L. Radke and the late L. Radke of Lamont, Alta. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Auld of Brant, Alta., and was given in marriage by her father.

Ann wore a floor-length gown of nylon tulle over satin with overskirt of scalloped lace topped by a lace jacket, buttoned in front with a high neckline and lily-point sleeves. Her veil was of finger tip length and her head piece was set with sequins and pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red rose buds and lace on a white Bible.

The bridal attendants were Miss Nadine Koroluk of Lamont and Miss Colleen Auld sister of the bride, of Calgary. They were both attired in caribbean blue velvet, small white feather hats and white accessories. They carried nosegays of pink carnations.

The groom's attendants were Alfred Loeffelmann of Bruderheim, Alta., and Kenneth Radke, the groom's brother of Lamont. The ushers were Ben Radke, uncle of the groom of Bruderheim and Ken Auld, brother of the bride of Drayton Valley.

The organist for the wedding was the bride's cousin, Mrs. Clayton Knapp of Calgary. During the signing of the register Miss Shiela MacPherson of Edmonton sang, "The Wedding Prayer."

The mother of the bride wore an afternoon dress of bamboo brocade with beige accessories and a corsage of tallman roses. The groom's mother wore a two-piece dress of faille in French blue with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. Cartnell of Calgary. The bride's table was laid with a hand-made lace table cloth, centred by a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked with candles and baskets of mauve and yellow snapdragons and mums. The toast to the bride was given by Mrs. Robert Bateman of Blackie and responded to by the groom. The toastmaster was the bride's brother, Ken.

Following the reception the young couple left for a honeymoon to be spent at Kallispell and points south. The bride wore a sheath dress of gold crepe, topped by a waist length buttoned jacket with three-quarter sleeves, copper accessories and a corsage of tallman roses. On their return they will reside at Lamont where the groom farms and the bride is on the nursing staff of the Archer Memorial Hospital. They had the honor of being the first couple to be married in the New St. Andrew's United Church in Calgary.

Wedding guests included well wishers from Edmonton, Westlock, Bruderheim, Tofield, Lamont, Drayton Valley, East Coulee, Blackie, High River, Brant and Calgary.

that's usually the time gas service is needed most! Every community served by the gas company is carefully supervised—to make sure gas service continues uninterrupted; and the local agent serving your community is the "on the spot" man to see that local trouble calls are attended to. Combined, the local agent and other trained personnel throughout the company work as a team to see that every gas user gets the best possible gas service at the lowest possible cost!

A. ROSS is your Canadian Western Local Agent assisted by C. E. Schneider, serving Vulcan, Champion, Carmangay and Kirkealdy.
